

Earth Day 2017's Campaign is Environmental & Climate Literacy -- continued

This Earth Day, gather with your community for an Environmental & Climate Literacy Teach-In or another project focused on education.

This year, join the League of Women Voters of Illinois in marking the 47th anniversary of Earth Day by marching with us at the March for Science in Chicago (see <https://sciencemarchchicago.org/> for details).

Even if you can't be with us in person, you can mark by the day by thinking what you've done, what you will do today, and plan what you will do in the near future as an individual or in collaboration with other groups to make this a better world for ALL people.
